

God's Unchanging Love

by Grover Cannon

Whether your day starts off good or bad,
Whether your season in life is happy or sad,
You will always have God's unchanging love.

In the best of times, in the worst of times,
You will always have God's unchanging love.

There are times when you feel like you can spread your wings
And fly on the love that looms in the air,
There are times in life when you're certain
You won't make it through the dark despair,
But you will always have God's unchanging love.

When your heart feels as if it's about to cave in When your soul is tormented from deep within,
When the mistakes from your past don't want you to live,
You will always have God's unchanging love.

No one can separate you from God's unchanging love.
